

Melon Brain

All you need for this is a watermelon.

Carefully take a slice off the bottom of the melon so that it sits flat. Using a vegetable peeler, remove the dark green rind & a thin layer of the lighter green beneath it.

Using a sharp knife, carve out grooves to resemble a brain – you might find it easier to mark them first with a skewer before you cut.

Place on a plate & keep in the fridge until needed. You might like to add peeled lychees to the plate for eyeballs or gummy Halloween sweets.
